ABSTRACT

Globalization has become one of the most extensively used terms of the decade. With the advancement of science, technology and communication system, the world has become as a global village. Guy Brainbant says, "The process of globalization not only includes opening up of world trade, development of advanced means of communication, internationalization of financial markets, growing importance of MNC's, population migrations and more generally increased mobility of persons, goods, capital, data and ideas but also infections, diseases and pollution".

Introduction

In this paper I intend to look at globalization and its impact on the lives of women living in third world countries. There is no contestation regarding the fact that globalization has enhanced the lives of such women in terms of better living conditions and employment opportunities due to mobility of trade.

A Good Introduction :-

Importance of the expected results to the general inq Extremely briefly depict the exploratory configuration and how it achieved the expressed destinations.

Materials

A Good Result :-

Results are as per aims and objective and useful to further research .

Conclusion

Globalization gives opportunities for women to explore and develop their skills but it's hardly certain that women are the sole stakeholders of the money they make. One can thus understand that globalization increases the mobility of the trade but opportunities should not come at the cost of exploitation. Women and other marginalised group, if given the right prospects can perhaps prosper from globalization and make most out of it.

A Good Conclusion :-

Thus, the research have wider scope for new academician and research scholars.
