ABSTRACT

Health is a key for success. Govt made plans for health but the success of plan mostly depend upon the work performance done by the source of information. Media is an effective instrument to gain knowledge about the govt. policy, plans for people development, general awareness etc. Most of the time we see that our youth is not aware about her/his health. Present time in our society the communication gap is available between parents and youth. So, many health related communication is not communicated by our society ex. HIV.
