

---

---

INNOVATIVE METHODS IN ENGLISH LANGUAGE TEACHING

Dr. S. Yagnasri

Assistant Professor , Dept of English, Davangere University , Davangere.

ABSTRACT:

English Language Teaching(ELT) is continually developing to address the issues of students in an always impacting world. This theoretical investigates creative techniques in ELT that have arisen to improve language obtaining, commitment, and student independence. From Informative Language Instructing (CLT) to innovation improved learning, the theoretical gives an outline of assorted approaches that advance significant language opportunities for growth. Key techniques, for example, Errand Based Language Teaching(TBLT), Content and Language Coordinated Learning (CLIL), and game-based learning are featured for their viability in cultivating open ability and decisive reasoning abilities. Furthermore, the theoretical talks about the significance of intelligent practice and student independence in engaging students to take responsibility for language learning venture. By embracing imaginative strategies in ELT, teachers can establish dynamic and student focused conditions that rouse language capability and deep rooted learning. Dialects appeared, when the Homo sapiens began helping out each other. Subsequently, responding to the inquiry, which is the most seasoned language on the planet, is a somewhat troublesome undertaking. In the end, the utilization of language turned into a significant piece of the human culture. It was not just used to convey and impart data to individuals around, yet it additionally had numerous social and social purposes. It came to be utilized for distinguishing a gathering, social preparing, diversion, and so on., in addition to other things. As time elapsed, numerous dialects advanced and differentiated, when individuals began going starting with one area of the planet then onto the next. Because of this reality, there are a few dialects which are spoken in various regions of the planet. Writing and Language are two countenances of a coin. Writing is an instructive device to learn language. Language comes close to food. We are so personally acquainted with it that we underestimate it as we do breathing or strolling. Writing refreshes the improvement of the language. The current article expects to examine the language cooperations and homeroom talks that happen in 'Writing circles'. Writing can assist students with fostering how they might interpret different societies, attention to contrasts and to foster the most common way of learning and figuring out overall.

KEYWORDS: Imaginative strategies, Language abilities, Instructing English. etc.

INTRODUCTION:

Writing - composed creative works, especially those with a high and enduring imaginative worth. Language - An arrangement of correspondence comprising of sounds, words and sentence structure, or the arrangement of correspondence utilized by individuals of a specific country The Teaching of Language is the one of the strategies for effective articulation and correspondence, yet the utilization of English for the purpose of correspondence has turned into a crucial prerequisite. The vast majority of the English educators, who select to show English language, don't have the foggiest idea how to instruct, yet fortunately English Language Instructing (ELT) has seen critical progressions as of late, determined by a developing comprehension of viable educational methodologies, mechanical developments, and advancing student needs. This acquaintance points with give an outline of imaginative strategies in ELT that have changed language showing rehearses and advanced growth opportunities for understudies around the world. As English keeps on securing itself as a worldwide most widely used language, the interest for capable English speakers has expanded across different fields and settings. Accordingly, teachers have embraced creative methodologies that focus on dynamic commitment, real correspondence, and student focused guidance. These methodologies upgrade language obtaining as well as encourage decisive reasoning abilities, intercultural capability, and deep rooted learning propensities. The presentation will frame a few critical creative strategies in ELT, including Open Language Teaching (OLT), Undertaking Based Language Instructing (TBLT), Content and Language Coordinated Learning (CLIL), innovation improved learning, game-based learning, and student independence. Every strategy offers novel advantages and valuable open doors for language students, enabling them to foster familiarity, precision, and trust in involving English for genuine correspondence purposes.

Besides, the presentation will feature the significance of educational adaptability and versatility in answering assorted student necessities, inclinations, and settings. It will stress the job of intelligent work on, continuous expert turn of events, and exploration informed showing approaches in upgrading showing adequacy and understudy learning results. By embracing imaginative techniques in ELT, teachers can establish dynamic and comprehensive learning conditions that rouse interest, innovativeness, and joint effort among understudies. As English language helping keeps on developing because of mechanical progressions, socio-social changes, and instructive patterns, it is fundamental for instructors to remain educated, versatile, and receptive to the advancing requirements of their students. All in all, this presentation makes way for a more profound investigation of creative strategies in ELT, giving a system to figuring out their importance, application, and expected influence on language Teaching and learning in the 21st hundred years. Through a promise to development, greatness, and understudy focused teaching method, instructors can enable students to flourish in an undeniably interconnected and multilingual world.

English, the authority language of the whole world is an exceptionally precarious language to instruct. Each language differs to educate, as a matter of fact. English is an extremely old language and has gone through many structures changes from Proto English got from the Latin and the German culture to the Cutting edge English which was laid out after in the post Renaissance period. Every form was less difficult than it's past. Present day English is the least complex transformation of an exceptionally old Language but it is as yet hard to show this language really particularly to the individuals who communicate in English as a subsequent language.

Creative strategies in English Language Teaching (ELT) are constantly advancing to address the issues of assorted students and adjust to changes in innovation, society, and training. Here are a few imaginative methodologies and strategies in ELT:

1. Communicative Language Teaching (CLT): CLT centers around fostering students' informative ability by underscoring genuine correspondence and significant connection. Exercises, for example, pretends, reproductions, and data hole undertakings urge students to involve English in true settings.

2. Task-Based Language Teaching (TBLT): TBLT spins around errands that students perform utilizing language. Students participate in errands that reflect certifiable exercises, for example, critical thinking, navigation, or finishing an undertaking, which assists them with creating language abilities while achieving significant objectives.

3. Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL): CLIL coordinates language learning with the learning of subject substance (e.g., science, history) in a bilingual or multilingual climate. This approach permits students to get language abilities while at the same time dominating scholastic substance.

4. Flipped Classroom: In a flipped study hall, students access educational substance (e.g., recordings, readings) beyond class, saving class time for intelligent exercises, conversations, and language practice.

This approach advances student focused guidance and takes into consideration more customized growth opportunities.

5. Project-Based Learning (PBL): PBL includes students working cooperatively on a venture over a lengthy period. Projects are intended to be interdisciplinary, request based, and applicable to students' inclinations and encounters. PBL encourages language obtaining through genuine errands and advances decisive reasoning, imagination, and critical thinking abilities.

6. Game-Based Learning: Games and gamified exercises can be utilized to connect with students and improve language learning. Instructive games, reenactments, and language-learning applications give valuable open doors to students to rehearse language abilities in a tomfoolery and propelling way.

7. Technology-Enhanced Language Learning: Incorporating innovation into language Teaching can upgrade opportunities for growth and give admittance to genuine language assets. Online stages, sight and sound materials, augmented reality, and language-learning applications offer open doors for independent learning, customized guidance, and worldwide joint effort.

8. Multimodal Learning: Integrating numerous methods of correspondence (e.g., text, sound, video, pictures) into language instructing can take care of various learning styles and inclinations. Multimodal texts and exercises connect with students through assorted tangible encounters and backing perception and maintenance of language content.

9. Task-Based Language Assessment (TBLA): TBLA evaluates students' language capability in light of their capacity to perform genuine errands as opposed to conventional trial of punctuation and jargon. Execution based evaluations, portfolios, and bona fide appraisals give more comprehensive bits of knowledge into students' language capacities.

10. Reflective Practice and Learner Autonomy: Empowering students to ponder their way of learning and take responsibility for learning advances student independence. Exercises, for example, objective setting, self-appraisal, and learning diaries engage students to screen their headway, recognize regions for development, and arrive at informed conclusions about their learning process.

By integrating these inventive strategies into English Language Instructing, teachers can make connecting with, student focused conditions that cultivate language procurement, decisive reasoning, and deep rooted acquiring abilities.

BACKGROUND

By and by, English showing in India is carried on formalistic and ceremonial technique, absent a lot of contribution with respect to the educators towards students. English Teaching has turned into a Test arranged, Course-focused or Degree-purposed practice and the instructors never attempted to foster English Instructing that ought to take special care of the pertinence of the current day needs. Further, being in the post-free time, the supposition that is to be as yet living on got information, part of the way as a result of the effect of Imperialism and somewhat in light of the appreciation and esteem for the West. Likely there is an absence of a flash, which can get the fire going of abilities and urge instructors to ponder their own social necessities and circumstances. A few variables ought to be considered in creating, finding and arranging the arrangement of training, especially English Teaching Abilities. Subsequently zeroing in on the genuine points, genuine goals and real focuses of educating, the accompanying two realities ought to be viewed as arranged by its significance: 1) A large portion of the educators cover the prospectus endorsed by the College with much trouble 2) The greater part of the understudies enlist themselves just to get a declaration These two significant issues lead both the instructor and the student to neither a valid and close to home inclusion nor an imaginative and decisive reasoning over English Showing programs or the arrangement of Schooling.

PROBLEMS WITH CURRENT METHODOLOGIES

In today's world English is shown in an extremely standard way. The fundamental instructing is required. Showing the letter sets and the development of the words is fundamental and an unquestionable necessity. Yet, there is something considerably more significant. The kids should have the option to express the words and figure out their importance prior to thinking of them down. The establishment to show English must be shown utilizing the conventional techniques for showing the letters in order and the words and the principles. However at that point showing just the principles is viewed as exhausting by most understudies and it is a direct result of this that they lose interest in learning the language. Despite the fact that it is basically impossible that other than the customary one to show the rudiments of the language these techniques should be changed a little in order to engage the understudies. With regards to instructing English to understudies of higher classes who definitely know the essentials the customary strategies for the most part will generally yield more unfortunate outcomes than creative techniques. This has proactively been demonstrated by techniques carried out like utilization of stories, sonnets, motion pictures, books and papers and so on. These techniques assist the understudies with learning the language better without them really understanding and furthermore it keeps their advantage. This paper will give a couple of such strategies to show English Language.

Enacting the stories

Stories structure an exceptionally basic piece of showing a language. These accounts assist with showing the understudies the development of sentences and how to offer their viewpoints and a ton of different things and in addition to they assist in keeping the understudies with fascinating alive as the story's end is something that each understudy needs to be aware. It requests to the curious idea of the understudies. Any incomplete story generally keeps the brain of the peruser disturbed. Albeit this strategy for utilizing stories has been carried out the system of showing the language through it is by and large not right. The assessment method of testing the understudies in their capability over the language is through questions in light of the story. This is for the most part not unreasonably compelling. Because of this the understudies commonly will generally take up the tales as a section instead of viewing at it as a fascinating read. A story should interest the innovative piece of the cerebrum. It assists us with being more creative, by attempting to picture the things that are occurring inside the story. It shouldn't just show them the language however it ought to likewise help them in extricating an example from the story. Saving inquiries for assessment kills the whole thought of creative mind for the understudies view at the story as need might arise to learn for replies. There is a superior approach to utilizing the tales to English utilizing stories. The understudies can establish the accounts or the plays. In this manner the understudies are actually drawn in with the narratives. They can bring their own translation of the person to life. It is fascinating for the understudies to figure out the characters and set themselves in their positions. It connects with their innovativeness by permitting them to make the whole set, relegate the characters and play it out as indicated by what they had envisioned. It likewise assists them with understanding other people's translation of the story and assists them with having a sound discussion about it which again helps them in learning the language. It eliminates the dull viewpoints and makes the learning more brilliant without imperiling the learning of the language. It may not be great yet it will have a profound effect at the forefront of their thoughts.

Characteristics Of Critical Thinking Skills In Class Room

1. As we probably are aware, Teaching is certainly not a one-way however a two-way correspondence, where the educator as well as the student ought to share a common relationship.
2. The study hall ought to be student driven; the main piece of the homeroom is that the students' cooperation ought to be more and significant regarding inclusion and commitment.
3. The points, objectives and targets ought to be available in a learning setting; this ought to assist the students with making a basic comprehension.
4. Showing basic abilities ought to get a long-lasting change the method involved with learning propensities for students.
5. Each method utilized and practiced in study hall ought to be a way to deal with foster decisive reasoning among students.
6. The class might be a blended gathering of students, where each student ought to be able to show his/her gifts, capacities, limits and capacities.

Teaching through conversations

Discussions are by a wide margin the most helpful approaches to showing the language. At the point when a youngster learns their native language by the discussions happens among them and others or by paying attention to the discussions made by the others. The youngster is never shown the language yet is as yet ready to percept the importance and learns it consequently to involve it in everyday life. Nobody at any point shows the youngster the characters of the language or how to make sentences or the syntax of that language. The discussions alone show the youngsters. Consequently discussions structure a vital piece of the instructing system. The sentence development and the language isn't something that can be completely instructed by rules. They must be educated instinctively. That can occur through a ton of perusing and a ton of tuning in. This can be dealt with effectively as each discussion needs a subject. The subject can be given to the understudies in type of composed records which they need to initially peruse then structure an assessment and afterward have a discussion about it or it tends to be stood up and afterward they can tune in, comprehend and furthermore participate in the discussion. The support and different parts of the discussion can continuously be assessed through focuses which will likewise push the understudies to partake in the discussion. These discussions must be general. They need to occur as though companions are conversing with one another. This way the understudies are agreeable in putting themselves out there in the most ideal manner. This cycle might require some investment yet in the end it would be the most effective one in showing the language. This is an exceptionally intriguing technique for educating. Understudies and kids commonly will quite often like games and need to play them to an ever increasing extent. Conventional techniques directed for study and games to be isolated yet the reality stays that the understudies will generally be more keen on messing around as opposed to plunking down to study. Any consistent thinking would direct us to consolidate the two angles to tackle the issue. The games a piece of learning would assist the understudies with keeping their advantage as the craving to win is major areas of strength for exceptionally. It makes all the difference for us and when included with various parts of learning the educational experience would proceed with nearly over the course of the day without the youngsters getting drained or exhausted of examining.

Competitions

A large portion of the times contests like discussions and orations additionally help the assistance the understudies a ton in learning the language as the part of the rivalries keep them at the best in discussions. It compels them to utilize the most ideal development of sentences to advance their viewpoints and to utilize great jargon and so on. This is a vital device in assisting them with learning the language. Likewise these rivalries assist them with tending to huge groups which is again is a vital piece of character improvement. On the off chance that the understudies are simply given tasks like „write a story or a sonnet or a report“ then the majority of the understudies break on the grounds that not every person can concoct a story or regardless of whether they think of one they can't record it on paper. In such case the understudies ought to be given the base information and information and afterward request that they change the information for instance the understudies can be given a base story and afterward request that they change a piece of it. This connects with their innovativeness and furthermore assists them with defeating their trouble of composing. Over all it lifts the tension of making totally new. Innovation is extremely challenging particularly when we are being compelled to make it happen. In this manner the understudies are not compelled to finish the task and afterward they can do it earnestly and subsequently complete the growth opportunity that can be acquired from the task.

Communicative language teaching (CLT)

This approach is presumably now the most well known showing model for English language instructing worldwide. To a limited extent since it expects to place understudies in an assortment of genuine circumstances, so they can figure out how to utilize their language abilities to impart in reality. Teachers subsequently will generally zero in on familiarity of correspondence as opposed to exactness and examples are a greater number of involved than hypothetical. Intelligent and applicable study hall exercises describe this methodology alongside the utilization of credible source materials. Instructors are urged to furnish the understudies with however much chance to give and get significant correspondence as could be expected. The utilization of individual experience is likewise normal in CLT homerooms. The focal point of TBLT Teaching is exclusively on the finish of an itemized task which interests and connects with the students. Students utilize the language abilities that they as of now need to finish the job and work through three unmistakable stages - a pre-task, the actual errand and post-task. Understudies may, for instance, be gotten some information about a significant ecological issue. To finish it, they should peruse/stand by listening to source material, lead web research, as well as composing and conveying the actual show. Research proposes that understudies in TBLT classes are engaged and spurred in light of the fact that they 'own' the language and have some control over the idea of the undertaking reaction.

Innovative strategies for teaching English language learners

Helpful Language Learning or CLL frames some portion of a more extensive showing approach known as Cooperative or Local area Learning (CL). CLL tries to utilize agreeable exercises including matches and little gatherings of students in the homeroom. In that capacity, it is an understudy focused, as opposed to an educator focused, way to deal with language educating. In the CLL study hall, the language learning exercises are all purposely intended to augment open doors for social collaborations. Understudies ought to achieve errands by connecting among themselves and talking/cooperating. The educator's job is to go about as a facilitator of and a member in the learning errands.

Innovative Methods: English Language Teaching

This paper endeavors to go in the advanced learning period, that new aspect has been included the current strategies and methods. With the advancement of innovation, new developments are being raised in language educating. These days, language educators are utilizing different varying media helps to work with the instructing system. Advancement in English language Teaching(ELT) has been created, in light of experiences from development procedures, both from outside and inside ELT. Inventive plans to make showing techniques more successful inside ELT are Imaginative educating, Sound and visual guides and so on. A successful instructor, in spite of having restricted assets, can show what him can do as a device. The current paper inspects different developments to show English actually and a few advancements that have changed English language instructing, likewise some advancement biggestly affected Educating. English language Teaching is developing constantly, especially close by progresses in innovation. Be that as it may, many changes biggestly affect educators. The advancement methods that we will search in this show makes the English language Teaching(ELT) viable and to empower our understudies to turn out to be better Students and communicators and maybe, this capacity to think and mirror that will empower Educators and furthermore students to take any development out there and make it work in our setting for our understudies. We likewise examine about the advancements that have changed the English language educating.

Inventive Strategies for English Language Showing Teaching and learning are the different sides of a coin. Gaining is a persistent cycle from the start to the furthest limit of human existence. A technique for showing assumes a significant part in the growing experience. The cycle won't be satisfied until the student acquires information from the subject. Since the motivation behind Teaching isn't just to make the understudies to get marks, yet in addition to upgrade the abilities and down to earth information on the understudies. English is the unparalleled language which manages the world. The supposed worldwide language doesn't give information alone, yet in addition name and acclaim in the general public. Showing the subsequent language is a troublesome undertaking for the educators. This Article manages the different creative strategies for English language Educating. The capability of educators is to assist the understudies with advancing by bestowing information. It is the job of the instructor to eliminate the obliviousness. No educator ought to fall into a dull example of introducing a similar sort of illustration. This is an exceptionally cutthroat world. Association of the understudies makes the instructing powerful. In conventional techniques, understudies are just the detached audience members. Innovativeness just shows the singularity of everybody. Executing creative techniques in Teachinggrowing experience would make the understudies more dynamic in the homeroom These days everything is automated. Individuals search the Web to explain the questions in every one of the areas. Utilizing multi-media in the showing field will make the students update their insight in the pertinent subject. It is the mix of different computerized media types, for example, message, pictures, sound and video into an incorporated multi-tangible intuitive application or show to pass data on to a crowd of people. The educator utilizes mixed media to change the items in the material. It will assist the educator with introducing things in a more significant manner. Imagining assumes the highest position in this technique. They accept what they see outwardly. Rather than making sense of, the instructors can utilize this strategy to make the students to comprehend by envisioning.

CONCLUSION

Development in the Teachingof English is a sort of consolation, an inspiration for all students and furthermore assists the students with outfitting to foster reasoning and abilities to learn and empower them to be more imaginative in their way of learning. Writing without a doubt has a spot in the language homeroom. For some understudies, writing can give a key to propel them to peruse texts in English. For all understudies, writing is an optimal vehicle for showing language use and for presenting social suppositions. Our progress in utilizing writing, obviously, significantly relies on a determination of texts which won't be clearly troublesome on either a phonetic or theoretical level. The dialects assume a vital part in our lives. They assist us with communicating our feelings. They assist us with making sense of what we need. They assist us with imparting and thus are the great devices to communicate what our identity is. Hence the information on a language and its legitimate use is vital as it characterizes us. In the event that dialects were not there to assist us with imparting there would be no distinction in our correspondences and the manner in which the creatures convey. Consequently the manners in which the dialects are shown assume an exceptionally essential part in a person's life. Since English is the authority language of this world it is of most extreme significance that this language must be shown so that it will help us to talk and compose and tune in as well as to convey. That is the reason for the language and that is the very thing that it should be utilized for. Thus imaginative techniques help in bringing a change and the vast majority of the times to improve things. It assists the understudies with learning quicker and in a proficient, fascinating and an intelligent way and it is the teacher's obligation to leave the customary strategies and clear a path for new and better techniques for the understudiesbenefite. Advancement in the Teachingof English is a sort of consolation, an inspiration for all students and furthermore assists the students with equipping to foster reasoning and abilities to learn and empower them to be more imaginative in their way of learning. Writing for sure has a spot in the language homeroom. For some understudies, writing can give a key to propel them to peruse texts in English. For all understudies, writing is an optimal vehicle for showing language use and for presenting social suspicions. Our outcome in utilizing writing, obviously, extraordinarily relies on a determination of texts which won't be unmistakably troublesome on either an etymological or calculated level.

REFERENCES

- ❖ Garcia, Ofelia; Kleifgen, Jo Anne; Falchi, Lorraine (January 2008). From English Language Learners to Emergent Bilinguals. Equity Matters.
- ❖ Wright, Wayne (2010). Foundations for Teaching English Language Learners.
- ❖ Lacelle-Peterson, Mark; Rivera, Charlene (1 April 1994). "Is It Real for All Kids? A Framework for Equitable Assessment Policies for English Language Learners".
- ❖ Ingersoll, Richard M. (2001). "Teacher Turnover and Teacher Shortages: An Organizational Analysis".

-
- ❖ " "Small Autonomous Schools as a District Policy: The Oakland Plan | Coalition of Essential Schools".
  - ❖ Baker, Colin; Wright, Wayne E. (2021-03-31). Foundations of Bilingual Education and Bilingualism. Multilingual Matters.
  - ❖ Moughamian, Ani C.; Rivera, Mabel O.; Francis, David J. (2009). Instructional Models and Strategies for Teaching English Language Learners.
  - ❖ "Learning and Thinking Differences in English Language Learners".